

Information o Rumour?

DesinfoEND is a European project that wants to develop digital skills that allows you to be informed about current news and end rumours and fake information

What are we going to do?

- Combat disinformation, fake news and rumours
- Learn to use digital tools for searching verified information and reliable sources
- Reading media in a critical way, and debating with the information found

How are we going to do it?

Through Gatherings and Interactive Groups. The group will choose the topics of conversation, and will work with digital tools.

We'll learn to navigate the web, select information, check its origin, and share our opinions and argumentations in group.

Starting October, dates and timetables to be determined
